DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 4 and 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

a. Regarding claim 4, the phrase "dome-like" renders the claim(s) indefinite because the claim(s) include(s) elements not actually disclosed (those encompassed by "-like"), thereby rendering the scope of the claim(s) unascertainable. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

b. Regarding claim 8, the word "means" is preceded by the word(s) "height-adjusting" in an attempt to use a "means" clause to recite a claim element as a means for performing a specified function. However, since no function is specified by the word(s) preceding "means," it is impossible to determine the equivalents of the element, as required by 35 U.S.C. 112, sixth paragraph. See Ex parte Klumb, 159 USPQ 694 (Bd. App. 1967).

2. The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609 A(1) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Friedman. Friedman discloses a device having a base-72, two elevated spaced-apart handles (fig. 9) supported by a structure above said base, and a spring-biased 12 pad 62 supported by said structure and being positioned between said handles to be contacted by the abdomen of an exercising user, said pad being spring-loaded upwards and moving in an angular forward-downward direction when pressed upon by the abdomen of an exercising user. The pad is pivotally supported (fig. 1).

5. Claims 1 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mullen. Mullen discloses a device having a base 2, two elevated spaced-apart handles 8,10 supported by a structure above said base, and a spring-biased pad 39 supported by said structure and being positioned between said handles to be contacted by the abdomen of an exercising user, said pad being spring-loaded upwards and moving in an angular forward-downward direction when pressed upon by the abdomen of an exercising user. The pad is pivotally supported (fig. 1). The structure has height adjusting means (fig. 9, 11).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 3-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Friedman as applied to claim 1 above. Friedman discloses all of the limitations of the claimed invention except the pad being pivotally supported on a circular section member and a plurality of pads. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to mount the pad on an additional support such that the pivot movement of the pad is not obstructed by other surrounding structural elements. The Applicant should note that duplicating the components of a prior art device is a design consideration within the skill of the art. In re Harza, 274 F.2d 669, 124 USPQ 378 (CCPA 1960).

8. Claims 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mullen as applied to claim 1 above and further in view of Anderson et al. Mullen teaches a plurality of springs supported by the device but does not teach a leaf spring. Anderson et al teaches a leaf spring. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute a leaf spring for a tension spring such that a spring is capable of performing the function of providing resistance. The Applicant should note that duplicating the components of a prior art device is a design consideration within the skill of the art. In re Harza, 274 F.2d 669, 124 USPQ 378 (CCPA 1960).
